Market Research Project - Trip to Canberra

There are still many seats available for members and their friends on the bus trip to Canberra in March (15th -17th). You are invited to ask anyone who you think may be interested as I will be advertising the places to anyone else soon. So far we have had only about 15 applications. The bus will hold over 50 people. 35 more to go. You may like to invite other stall holders, other craft or arts persons, friends and rellos, neighbours etc

We are due to pay the extra deposit for the Accommodation this month, so we need numbers. If you want extra flyers please contact me on 4267 2697, 0427 100 621 or preferably, create@judybourke.com and I will email one to you.

Accessible Arts launches Gallery Space

An inexpensive accessible space is now available for hire at Accessible Arts for short exhibitions. Situated on Pier 4, The Wharf, at Walsh Bay, the space offers superb harbour views. Facilities include feature hanging tracks, refreshment amenities, tables and chairs. DVD and digital projector equipment is available on request. The space would suit not for profit groups wishing to exhibit work produced in community programs. For more info or to book the Accessible Arts Gallery Space contact Mukesh Bhardwaj on 9251 6499 or email: mbhardwaj@aarts.net.au

PRIVACY and our Membership List

One reason your Committee has not yet sent out a comprehensive Membership List to all members is the issue of privacy. In our end-of-year mail out of subscription renewal notices, there will be a form for every member to fill out, stating whether they agree or not, to having their name, craft/art practice and contact details made available to other members. In the meantime, you can always contact a committee member to make inquiries.

Celebrating 100 years of surf lifesaving in the Illawarra

A Memorial Sculpture in honour of all Surf Lifesaving Members in the Illawarra, past and present, now stands at North Beach, beside the Wollongong Surf Lifesaving Club, which was the first club in the Illawarra.

This new public artwork was officially unveiled on 6 January, by the right worshipful, the Lord Mayor Councillor Alex Darling AM.
